LABOR DAY OBSERVED

THE WORKERS DAY IN THE LAND.

Parades, Speaking, Picnics and Other Pastimes the Order of the Day—Large Turnouts Everywhere.

Chicago, Sept. 4.—A feature of the celebration of Labor day was a parade of several thousand marchers. Many local labor organizations, including the carpenters and hod carriers, did not participate in the parade. Other building trades unions planned for an all day outing at parks. The carpenters had an all day outing for members and families at Saurbhan park. The day was observed in other cities by parades, picnics, etc.

At Boston 10,000 unionists paraded; the same number at Philadelphia; 15,000 at Pittsburgh; 17,000 at St. Louis; 12,000 at Kansas City; at Milwaukee, 10,000; at Toledo, 3,000; Denver, 5,000; Cincinnati, 15,000. Detroit, St. Paul, New Orleans, Norfolk, Atlanta, Nashville, Knoxville, Memphis and other cities had a full turnout of unionists. The day was cold and ideal for marching.

RAINED AT NEW YORK.

New York, Sept. 4.—Fifteen thousand workers marched to day under streaming umbrellas. The members of the waiters' union, who had prepared to march dressed in white dresses and shoes, and carry parasols were so determined to march in the parade that it required a decree from the central body, declaring it was unbecoming for women to tramp the sloppy streets, to deter them.

AT OMAHA.
Omaha, Sept. 4.—A speech to union labor by William J. Bryan was the principal feature of Labor day exercises in Omaha. Bryan spoke to nearly 5,000 members of labor unions and their families.

THE G. A. R.

Denver, Sept. 4.—The first official business of the national encampment of the Grand army was transacted to day, when the national administration met and selected E. B. Stilling of Boston, for junior vice commander in chief, to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Commander in Chief Blackmar. The council approved the work of the executive committee performed since the last encampment and audited accounts.

The program proper of events will begin to-morrow and will include a parade of naval veterans and military of the grand army.

A NEW DISCOVERY

Regeneration in Plant Life Demonstrated by a California Scientist.

Berkeley, Cal., Sept. 4.—That the process of regeneration may be controlled in plant life is the discovery made by William Albert Stettin, head of the botany department of the University of California. By controlling the direction of the flow of nutrition in a plant Stettin made buds grow where they had not grown before and made buds at the end of a plant which had been the strongest, under normal conditions, dwindle away. Stettin believes the problem of polarization may be solved by experiments on the same line that his recent experiments has opened up.

Cedar Rapids, Iowa, Sept. 4.—About two hundred delegates, representing nearly every state in the union, were present here to day when the sixth annual convention of postoffice clerks met. The sessions will continue all week. The principal business will be consideration of a plan to introduce a fraternal insurance feature into the association.

John P. McCormick of the credentials committee created an uproar this afternoon by omitting the delegates from San Francisco and Seattle in his report and naming only nine St. Louis delegates instead of ten, ascertaining per capita tax had not been fully paid. The St. Louis and San Francisco delegates paid the tax, while the St. Louis case went over. To night the delegates were entertained at a smoker. There will be a contest between the smaller cities, which want a national insurance feature, and the larger cities, which oppose it.

In their recent publication on infant feeding condemn the prevailing use of infant foods to raise babies on. Babies were intended to subsist on mother's milk—other foods are but imitations—are never as nourishing as the food intended for them—and are oftentimes positively harmful.

It's the same way with ice. We have imitations on the market to-day—the manufactured kind.

It takes cold, winter weather to properly make ice—and the colder the weather the thicker and better the ice.

We gather our ice from a lake up north. Winter summons all her forces up there and makes ice that is ice—it's not a substitute for the real thing. You'll thank us for this advice if you will but profit thereby—BUY PURE LAKE ICE.

GALA DAY FOR LABOR

CELEBRATION AT NICHOLS PARK WAS GRAND SUCCESS.

Athletic Events, Gun Club Shoot, Splendid Addresses, Baseball Game and Dance in Pavilion All Contributed to the Enjoyment of the Occasion

Gloomy skies and bleak weather combatted with the enthusiasm of organized labor on its national holiday Monday, but the latter proved victors over the elements as they have always in the past over those who have opposed them, in no matter what line. It was a great day at Nichols park and one that will long be remembered.

The exercises which marked the day as a notable one in the annals of union labor in this part of the state, began at 3 o'clock in the afternoon with speaking from a platform erected for the purpose at the edge of the lake, east of the pavilion. By the time the hour mentioned had arrived thousands had congregated in different parts of the grounds—some about the fish fry, some in the pavilion and many more at the gun club, where at match shoot was in progress, while as many as could get within hearing distance gathered about the speakers' stand. T. J. Kendrick, president of the Trades and Labor assembly, presided, and in introducing Mayor John R. Davis, who was the first speaker, spoke as follows:

CHAIRMAN KENDRICK.

"Ladies and Gentlemen: We welcome you all on this glad occasion. This is the second time that Labor day has been celebrated in this beautiful park, the gift of that grand old man, Mr. S. W. Nichols.

"As the spokesman for eleven hundred men, I will thank the merchants and all others who have so kindly assisted us in closing their stores and many other ways. For the address of welcome, I will introduce to you a man who is personally familiar with all the struggles of hard labor and labor organizations. He is a man who has fought his way round by round up the ladder of life. He has been beset on the right hand and on the left by those who have sought to restrain his progress in the march of fame and usefulness, and he now stands among us without a spot to stain the escutcheon of his honor. A manly man, a friend to the friendless, an honest advocate of the laboring classes and an honest and fearless official in the discharge of his every duty. I have the extreme pleasure of introducing to you your friend and mine, the Hon. John R. Davis."

T. J. KENDRICK
Chairman Labor Day Committee.

MAYOR J. R. DAVIS.

Mr. Davis spoke in part as follows: "Mr. Chairman, Gentlemen of the Federation of Labor and Friends: I presume my first duty is to thank you, Mr. Chairman, and the members of your committee for your very kind invitation to address you on this occasion, and while I am not a public speaker, it is a pleasure to me to have this opportunity to speak to you and to extend to you, on behalf of the park commissioners of this city, a very hearty welcome to hold this your annual celebration on this your national holiday in this beautiful new park.

"It is not necessary, gentlemen of the Federation of Labor, for me to welcome you to this park, or to anything that belongs to the city of Jacksonville, as you know you are always welcome. We have a right, gentlemen, to congratulate one another on this beautiful park for which we are indebted to Mr. Nichols, the taxpayers of this city and to your generous city council.

"We should congratulate the park commissioners for the rapid progress they are making in bringing about the changes being made upon these grounds, and I predict in a few years this will be the beautiful spot of our city.

"I had hoped on this occasion to have the opportunity to welcome to our city your friends from Decatur and other adjoining cities. After your very generous treatment three years ago to your Decatur friends, I feel that they have done you an injustice in not returning the compliment and being with you on this occasion as promised.

"I also wish to congratulate you, gentlemen of the Federation of Labor of this city, on your organization in this city. You are to be congratulated on the harmonious condition that seems to exist between the employer and employee in our city during the past year. While other cities are having labor troubles, Jacksonville seems to be, as far as I know, at peace with the industrial world. That means, gentlemen, that your organization has been guided by wise heads and judicious counsel.

"It has been said that this is the age of combination and concentration of capital. The combinations are the result of industrial evolution and if properly cooperated with labor should be a benefit to us.

"While capital has been organized and combined, the individual has reached out his hands to touch the hand of his fellow man, until in the United States more than one million workmen form the Federation of Labor, and thus has come upon us the great spirit of cooperation—the banding together of men. The only life worth living is that which is fortified and prompted by industry. But the object must be worthy and the methods honorable. After all the main purpose sought is contentment and happiness."

Before introducing the next speaker, Hon. J. B. Lennon, of Bloomington, Mr. Kendrick announced that he had just received a telegram from former Governor Yates, who was expected to be present to deliver an address, stating that he was confined to his bed by illness, and also a letter from Hon. Henry T. Rainey saying that pressing business matters kept him away.

J. B. LENNON.

Mr. Lennon delivered an eloquent and thoughtful address, from which a few extracts are given:

"In 1882, on motion of P. J. McGuire, Labor day was instituted in the city of New York. From this beginning, a little over twenty years ago, the observance has grown until no other holiday is now so generally celebrated. This is because the labor question is the great question of the world to-day.

"The contest of labor for its rights began centuries ago, and there has been no century in which some progress has not been made. This contest is now in the hands of the trades and labor unions, and I believe that these organizations will accomplish the salvation of labor. The great principle for which we fight is opposed to cheap men, and is opposed to taking the child from the school or the playground, and the women from the homes, to put them in the factory and the sweat shop.

"If we are to have a higher standard of morals, a higher citizenship, they must come through the laboring people. It is this agency which must elevate the people of this great country, and raise them to a higher plane of usefulness."

The speaker then entered into an extended argument for the "boycott," and a discussion of the "closed shop," so-called. "The closed shop," he said "is the one which is closed to union men and union women; the union shop is never a closed one. I resent the use of the term 'closed' as used in connection with a union shop. None of the unions say, 'You cannot hire a non-union man'; we will see to it that they are brought into the organization. And there are more union shops to-day than there have ever been before."

Mr. Lennon then took up the charges of crime, violence and unfairness made against unions, and showed the charges to be false as applied to the greater majority of union men. "Go to your police magistrates and you will find that a very small per cent of the men who are brought before the bar of justice are union men. The members of our unions are peaceable, law abiding citizens."

"It is unfair to charge to the trades unions the faults of some of their members. On the other hand the trades unions have worked a revolution in some of the trades in this respect, noticeably in the tailors' and iron molders' trades, the members of which have been noted for their fondness for liquor."

Taking up the charge that labor unions form a labor trust, the speaker showed that there is an essential difference between the effects of labor unions on labor and of a "trust" on any commodity. He also handled the "eight-hour question" and closed with an exposition of the principles which govern the right conduct of the labor struggle.

M. F. DUNLAP.

The chairman then introduced Hon. M. F. Dunlap as "the prince of organizers." Mr. Dunlap spoke in part as follows:

"In the first place I wish to express the thanks of the people of this city to Mr. Nichols, our great hearted philanthropist, who made the improvement of this park possible.

"I don't know much about labor unions, but what I have seen of them has been good. I believe the basis of prosperity is good wages for the laboring people. I do not consider them a dangerous people. Some seem to fear them, and blame them for their strikes and boycotts. These I consider the legitimate weapons of the labor unions. The world is slow to grant to labor its just recompense, and such measures as are adopted seem to be necessary."

W. A. JACOBS.

W. A. Jacobs, of Davenport, Iowa, was the next speaker. He spoke in part as follows:

"Ever since history began, I find that there have been classes struggling with each other, each trying to reach the topmost place. So I say we are not responsible for the struggle that is being carried on to-day."

The speaker then, in a very comprehensive manner, traced the labor movement from the earliest times through the feudal system and down to the present time.

"The workers must organize. They can't help it. It is a natural thing for them to do," was the burden of his remarks. He was heard with the closest attention.

BABY SHOW.

At the conclusion of the speaking the baby show was held in the pavilion. The judges for this event were well selected, as follows: M. D. Stewart, John R. Davis and M. F. Dunlap. There was quite an array of little ones with their proud mammae awaiting the arrival of the judges, there being about twenty entries in all. The judges voted by secret ballot, and as their opinions were at a wide divergence their decision became a matter of chance. The lucky winners were as follows: Prettiest boy under 1 year, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. F. Mitchell; prettiest girl under 1 year, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Rajohn.

ATHLETIC CONTESTS.

The athletic contests and the horse show were in charge of a committee composed of Frank McKenna, Frank Eades and T. J. Kendrick. There was so much else to occupy the attention of the crowds that there was not much interest manifested in these events, which were won as follows:

Most stylish turnout on the grounds—Mat Harmon.

Obstacle race—Charles Gaines.
Climbing greased pole—Charles Gaines.

100-yard dash—Orie Moore.

A game of baseball was played between two picked teams, the score being 18 to 20 at the end of the eighth inning, when the game broke up.

FISH FRY.

The fish fry attracted the greater part of the attention of the crowds. Thousands thronged the vicinity where the fish were being fried and hundreds of pounds were sold. This department was in charge of O. McEvers, G. E. Belzer, Frank Eades, August DeFreitas, James A. Scott, M. C. Armstrong, B. C. Marks, William Buckley and Charles Christian, assisted by an able corps of helpers.

THE DANCE.

The young people enjoyed a dance in the pavilion during the afternoon and evening. This proved an especially pleasant feature of the occasion and was in charge of Dan Shields, John Clancy, Frank McKenna, Frank Hayden, Lester McDougall, Edward Cox and John Dyer.

THE COMMITTEES.

The executive committee for the day was composed of A. L. Wood, C. McEvers and Henry Klotz. Other committees were: Music—Frank Correa, John Clancy, Dan Shields, Frank Hayden and E. O. Mayer. Printing—A. L. Wood, Charles Christian and Frank Hayden. Speakers—Frank McKenna, J. P. Hennessey and Charles Christian. Privileges—Henry Klotz, William Catherwood, Frank Correa, E. O. Mayer, Alfred Larson and R. E. Pelham. On closing of stores—G. E. Belzer, M. C. Armstrong, J. M. Black, Frank Eades and Frank Hayden.

GUN CLUB SHOOT.

The Nichols Park Gun club gave a team shoot during the afternoon, which was witnessed by a large crowd. The shooting was generally poor, although some very good scores were made. In the team race between teams of ten men each, chosen by Ed

A WOMAN TO BE PRETTY

Must Have Luxuriant and Glossy Hair, No Matter What Color.

The finest contour of a female face, the sweetest smile of a female mouth, loses something if the hair is crowned with scant hair. Scant and falling hair, it is now known, is caused by a parasite that burrows into the scalp to the root of the hair, where it saps the vitality. The little white scales the germ throws up in burrowing are called dandruff. To cure dandruff permanently, then, and to stop falling hair, that germ must be killed. Newbro's Hairdye, an entirely new result of the chemical laboratory, destroys the dandruff germ, and, of course, stops the falling hair and prevents baldness. Sold by leading druggists. Those who participated in eight of the twelve events of the afternoon then contested for the ownership of the medal. There were seven contestants and Craig tied with Groves with a score of 176 out of 200. Craig won in the shoot off, thus becoming owner of the medal.

was the speaker at the men's meeting Sunday afternoon and delivered one of the most powerful addresses heard in the Y. M. C. A. building for many a day. The large number of men who were present were brought face to face with the truth in a manner that caused all to stop and think. We feel mighty grateful for his words. Next Sunday Mr. W. E.
Edmunds, of Springfield, formerly general secretary, will be the speaker. To the boys he will speak on the subject: "Stickers"; and he writes, "My thought for the men may be covered by 'A Great Reality.' In this I want to speak to the Christian men more especially."The association is very grateful to the friends who have made the recent improvements in the building possible. The office, the main corridor and the members' parlor have been newly papered and painted. There remains, however, a great deal to be done to put the building in first class condition for the winter's work.The swimming pool is perhaps the most popular place at the present time. It is not an uncommon sight to see fifty boys in the pool at one time.NOTICE TO HIGH SCHOOL

It is now stated that it will not be necessary for the bride to promise to obey her husband in the Methodist Episcopal marriage service. The Presbyterian church ritual prescribes in its marriage service that the woman must promise to obey. If this is the situation brides will want to be married by Methodist ministers, while grooms will prefer that the knot be tied in the good old Presbyterian way.

JAPAN PLACES LARGE ORDER.
Japan has placed enormous orders in America for the material to be used in building a railroad in Corea. The orders are rush orders and the material includes 350 steel bridges, 150 locomotives and 2,000 cars. By the construction of this railroad it can be plainly seen that Japan has no intention of relinquishing her hold on Manchuria. The delivery of the material is to be made overland. The freight charges for delivering the whole amount will come to $2,200,000.

Get-rich-quick schemes are many, but results shoddy and doubtful. More people stay broke looking for a scheme of this sort than ever find them and materialize on their expectations. The old reliable way is to stay by conservative methods. A little work thrown in occasionally would not be amiss. The world is too full of people who are looking for an easy way to make their living. The condition now exists that so many are looking for the easy way that it is harder to find that way than it is to get out and make a living by legitimate methods.

Boys who are beginning the laborer's life at $3 a week should heed the words of a recent writer, who asserts that positions commanding high salaries are increasing so fast that there are not men enough to fill them. Says a business man: "We cannot train up capable men fast enough to keep pace with the growth of our business." The mechanic or the bookkeeper of today may be the general superintendent tomorrow. The proposition that there is always room at the top is not a shallow piece of sophistical encouragement, but is as sound as any generality can be.

LOWDEN FOR CONGRESS.

Chicago, Sept. 4.—Col. Frank O. Lowden met some of the politicians from the Thirtieth congressional district Saturday afternoon and, afterward, it was announced that in case Congressman Robert L. Hill should not desire renomination Colonel Lowden was likely to be the candidate at the spring primaries.

The announcement came from the two political factions which fought and bled all over the district last year, the Yates people agreeing that if Hill did not want the nomination Lowden could have it.

MAHARA'S MINSTRELS NEXT WEDNESDAY.

One of the big novelties in minstrelsy this season and a leading feature with Mahara's Minstrels is the appearance in the first part of twelve handsomely costumed lady vocalists. This double sextette of ladies are graduates of the famous Dunavin Musical college, where all high grade colored musicians are educated. It is an acknowledged fact that the singing features of this organization compares favorably with the finest operatic companies in existence and surpasses in excellence of harmony all so-called minstrel vocalists.

H. A. Molohon came home Tuesday morning from Oshkosh, Wis., where he and Asa Stutsman have been camping for the past summer.

REAL HAVANA CIGARS FOR FIVE CENTS

The fact that Wadsworth Bros. sell their Chicos direct to the leading retailers thus saving all middlemen's and jobbers' profits enables them to buy the Chicos so that they can sell them for 5 cents straight.

The Chico is a fine, rich aromatic cigar, with a special selection of high grade Havana filler and while it costs the agent more than any other 5 cent cigar in their case, yet they are always glad to recommend it for they know that a smoker who buys a Chico will come back to their store for more.

The best men in this city, the bankers, lawyers, the merchants, those who can afford to spend ten, fifteen cents or more for a cigar prefer the Chico on account of their mildness, and their true Havana fragrance and flavor.

When you can get a real Havana cigar for a nickel what is the use of paying a higher price or snoking a poorer cigar?

Try a Chico and you will agree that it is the best cigar for the money that you have ever smoked.

ILLINOIS NEWS ITEMS

To Rid Springfield Schools of Fads—Danville Editor Fatally Injured—Man Dashed Beneath Train and Killed—Deaths at Quincy Soldiers' Home.

SCHOOL FAD TO GO.
Springfield: A war on fads in the public schools of Springfield will be made by the city board of education and this year will witness a radical change in the conduct of the institutions. Already the board has done away with vertical writing and the pupils this year will go back to the slant form of writing.

More time will be devoted to the study of English, arithmetic and United States history. High school graduates it is said have been a disappointment in English and mathematics. One of the troubles seems to be that they did not learn fractions thoroughly in the graded schools.

The board at its last meeting voted to dispense with vertical writing. This method of writing was established in the schools in 1896 and has been followed since. Some of the most prominent educators of the country and some of the biggest business men declared after the introduction of the vertical writing that the schools had shown strides in the present progressive age by resorting to the teaching of this style.

EDITOR FATALLY HURT.
Danville: John H. Harrison, editor of the Danville Commercial News, and a trustee of the Kankakee asylum, is probably fatally injured and three others seriously hurt as a result of an automobile accident occurring thirteen miles east this afternoon.

While riding along a high embankment paralleling the Wabash river near Covington, Ind., the machine slipped over the edge and rolled to the bottom, a distance of about sixty feet, landing upside down. The other members of the party were thrown out when the machine turned over. All but Editor Harrison, who was driving it, were found pinned beneath. The injured were taken to Covington where temporary aid was given, after which they were brought to a hospital here.

Mr. Harrison was injured internally and is permanently paralyzed. His mother Mrs. Minna Harrison suffered a sprained ankle. His uncle, Col. J. N. Harrison, of Ottawa, Kans., has a broken arm while the latter's wife suffered a fractured collar bone.

John H. Harrison is one of the leading Republicans of eastern Illinois and is an appointee of Governor Deenen.

KILLED BY TRAIN.

Petersburg: Little dreaming that it was to be his last day on earth, Phillip Schunk, aged 56, of Peoria, joined the party of merry excursionists to the base ball game at Springfield to day, but lost his life half way to his destination under the wheels of a Chicago, Peoria & St. Louis railway train, three miles north of Petersburg Sunday.

The train was taking the heavy grade at the hill north of the city, and Schunk with other members of the party was standing on the platform and hanging on the steps. Not perceiving that the train was nearing a stone culvert, Schunk leaped too far out from the train and was dashed from his footing under the car. The wheels passed over his head crushing it and scattering portions of his body on the car above.

The train ran on to Petersburg and sent a section crew back to pick up the body. The remains will be sent back to Peoria tomorrow. Schunk was single and leaves his parents and five brothers.

TAZEWELL COUNTY TRAGEDY.

Pekin: A tragedy which involves two of the best known families in two counties occurred shortly after 8 o'clock Sunday morning when Frank Edwards, son of Sheriff Frank Edwards, of McLean county, was shot and killed by Henry Clay, the son of Henry Clay, one of the most prominent attorneys of Tazewell county, and a member of the Pekin school board.

The shooting took place at Spring Lake and was accidental. The Edwards boy was 10 years old and young Clay is about the same age.

REAR END COLLISION.

CHOLERA CASES SUPPRESSED.

London, Sept. 4.—The correspondent of the Mail at Vienna says that 200 deaths in recent weeks from cholera in Gallicia and Bukovina have been concealed by the local authorities.

TATTS PARTY AT CANTON.

Long Beach, Sept. 4.—The Tatt party arrived at Canton and proceeded to the American consulate, where they were met by a battalion of victory guards. A reception at the consulate followed. This afternoon the visitors were entertained at luncheon by invitation of the victory, who, however, was unable to be present, owing to illness. His representative made a speech. He thought the boycott of American goods was unreasonable and a violation of treaty rights, and had ordered the boycott stopped.

DIED OF WOUND.

Chicago, Sept. 4.—George C. Miller, a former board of trade operator, who last night wounded his divorced wife and her husband, Louis B. Hill, died to day of the bullet wound which he inflicted on himself when police came to arrest him. Police fear their theory that Miller was the man who shot Mrs. Alice a fortnight ago, mistaking her for his former wife, cannot now be proved.

ACCIDENTAL DEATH.

Berlin, Sept. 4.—Baron Karl von Blied-Kriegstein, war correspondent of the Lokal Anzeiger, shot and killed himself accidentally while cleaning a rifle at Harbin Saturday.

RAILROAD NEWS NOTES

Wreck at Alton-C. P. & St. L. Crossing Near Jerseyville—Store House for Alton Supplies at Murrayville—Personal Mention.

A very bad wreck occurred at Jerseyville Sunday by an Alton passenger train crashing into a C. P. & St. L. train on a crossing. While no one was killed both engines were considerably damaged. The C. P. & St. L. engine was brought to the car shops here Monday over the Alton and will be repaired at once. The C. P. & St. L. train was in charge of Conductor Jones and Engineer Eberly.

Orders have been issued to Supervisor Sweeney of the west district of the Alton to immediately construct a store house at Murrayville to store all splice bars, and other supplies unloaded there for the Air line so that they will not rust as would be the case if left exposed for the winter.

The announcement from General Manager Goodnow last week that the active operations on the new branch had been postponed until next spring, has been followed by other orders, among them that to Supervisor Sweeney. There are numerous car loads of supplies at Murrayville and it is imperative that they be protected until next spring. Similar store houses will be erected at Iles and at other points where supplies have been stored. The company is having considerable trouble concerning highway crossings along the Air Line as well as railroad crossings. Now that the Air Line operations are abandoned for the season, the Alton will devote its entire attention to the double track work on the south end.

A freight wreck occurred on the St. Louis division of the Burlington one mile north of Winchester Monday night at 11:15 o'clock, when second No. 80, southbound, ran into first No. 80, also southbound. The engine and way car of the first section were thrown off the track and also two loaded cars. Conductor Burrows had his leg broken in two places. The engine of second No. 80 is lying crosswise of the track.

The Burlington fence gaps, under Foreman Parsons, went to Tamale Monday afternoon, where they will build several miles of fence.

Geo. W. Dye, division freight and passenger agent of the Burlington, went to Centralia on business Monday.

The Burlington telegraph line men passed through the city Monday en route to Centralia, where they will work on the new line from Centralia to Herrin, which the Burlington is building.

J. W. Foutch, who has been employed as night operator at the Wabash, has been transferred to Lanesville and W. L. Kesinger has taken the position at the local office.

FLOATING TOURNAMENT.

The Iceberg Gun club of Beardstown will give their annual floating tournament Sept. 12 and 13. This tournament has proved popular in the past and a number from this city expect to participate this year. The plan involves shooting from a barge, steaming from Beardstown to Peoria one day and returning on the following day.

SHOOTING MATCH.

Sea Girt, N. J., Sept. 4.—In the national shooting tournament to day Captain Wells of New York won the Hale trophy match with a score of 45; Private Leboutillier of New York won the squadded revolver match, score 122; The First troop, New Jersey, won the carbine team match, with 122; and the Manhattan Rifle and Revolver association won the inter-club match with a score of 220.

The Standard Bearers are to meet with Mrs. Naylor this week and as it is the last meeting of the year all are requested to be present.

THE BIRTH RECORD.

Born, to Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Walstrom, 520 South Diamond street, a son.

A ROMANCE INDEED

Cousin of W. J. Bryan to Marry Mississippian—Acquaintance Began Over the Telephone

Salem, Ill., Sept. 4.—With the marriage of Dr. E. F. Lovell, of Jackson, Miss., and Miss Jessie Belle Kagy at Salem, Ill., to morrow, a romance which had its beginning over a telephone wire will culminate. Were rural Illinois not a network of country telephone lines, the chances are that Dr. Lovell and Miss Kagy would still be strangers. As it was, the handy telephone solved the difficulty of a formal introduction with the parties many miles apart.

Miss Kagy is a cousin of William Jennings Bryan, who was born at Salem. She is a daughter of the late Judge John B. Kagy, of Salem, and is connected with a number of prominent families of that part of the state.

The wedding will be celebrated to morrow morning at the home of the bride's mother. Dr. Lovell is traveling representative in the south for W. P. Diggs & Co., of St. Louis. He was raised near Booneville, Mo., where his father, T. J. Lovell, is a well known farmer. He attended the medical department of the state university and was active in Cooper county politics for several years before going south.

A little over a year ago Dr. Lovell dropped into the little town of Brubaker, Ill., to sell a bill of goods to E. F. Brubaker, a merchant. While he was in the store Mrs. Brubaker came in and he introduced himself. In the conversation she mentioned that Salem was her home and that she had two sisters living there. Mrs. Brubaker is a handsome woman and Dr. Lovell passed the compliment that if her sisters were as good looking he would like to meet them.

"They can discount me, two to one," replied the lady, assuring him that good looks run in the family.

"But, how am I to introduce you? What do you say if I call up Jessie on the 'phone?"

This suited Dr. Lovell and in a few minutes they had Miss Kagy at the other end of the line in Salem, and Mrs. Brubaker did the introducing.

Dr. Lovell went to Salem in the course of a few days and called on the young lady. Since then he has made frequent visits, and a couple of months ago the wedding date was set.

The couple will reside at Jackson, but Dr. Lovell decided not to take his bride south until the yellow fever scare is over. They will make a tour through Canada to Portland, Ore., California and the Yellowstone park before going to Jackson about Nov. 1.

Dr. Lovell was in St. Louis last night on his way to Salem with A. E. Berry of St. Louis, who will be best man at the wedding. Miss Manie Feltman, of Salem, will be bridesmaid. Rev. Dr. Peak of the Presbyterian church at Salem will officiate.

Miss Kagy is counted one of the belles of Salem. She is an accomplished musician and also has talents as an artist. For several years she has been identified with the state organization of the Daughters of Rebeccah and is state instructor of the order.

DANCE AT COUNTRY CLUB.

The Country club was the scene of a delightful dance Monday evening, given by Miss Gladys Osborne in honor of her guests, Miss Sarah Elizabeth Hanson of Chicago and Miss Nadine Robertson of Virginia. There were about thirty couples present and a program of fourteen numbers with several extras was danced. Joffrey's orchestra furnished a fine musical program.

The decorations were very pretty and were tastefully arranged. Astors and asparagus fern were the principal floral emblems employed.

During the evening a buffet lunch was served in the rooms adjoining the dancing hall and the occasion was one of thorough enjoyment.

Among the out of town guests present were: Miss Hanson of Chicago and Miss Robertson of Virginia, the guests of honor; Warren Nixon of Annapolis, Md., Frank Robertson and Mr. Campbell of Virginia, and Mr. Struble of northwestern Iowa.

THE MARKETS

CHICAGO LIVESTOCK.

Chicago, Sept. 4.—Cattle: Receipts, 21-000. There was no great urgency in the general demand and buyers were unusually exacting in their selections, the demand being chiefly for good cattle. For the choice descriptions prices were steady with no excessive supply, but unattractive lots moved off very slowly and prices were barely maintained. The stocker and feeder trade was fairly good. Hogs, $3.60 to $3.75; cows and heifers, $1.50 to $1.60;
stockers and feeders, $2.25 to $2.50; western cattle, $3.10 to $3.25.

Hogs—Receipts, 28,000. Trade was slower than usual and prices were weak at further reductions of 50c to 1c. Good to choice heavy, $3.50 to $3.65; rough, $3.35 to $3.50;
bulk of sales, $3.40 to $3.50.
Sheep—Receipts, 24,000. Market was steady to 10c lower. Sheep, $1.50 to $1.60; lambs, $2.00 to $2.10.

The Machine Made Pie.

The national institution has reached its apotheosis in Pittsburgh,
where the American eagle screams over a machine which turns out forty pies a minute, 2,400 an hour, or 24,000 a day of ten hours. A man named Sons invented it. Sons was a boss baker, and the labors of successive generations of mothers over millions of American pies have blossomed in his genius. The machine will turn you out a pie while you wait—apple, mince, blueberry, raspberry, blackberry, pumpkin, custard or lemon icing. This shows the progress of civilization. Instead of 24,000 women, each making a pie for dinner in her own kitchen, one woman will go and tend that machine and turn out 24,000 pies a day.

A Veteran's Complaint.

A war veteran in the custom house said yesterday: "Don't you think the G. A. R. is a thing of the past? Where is the poor old veteran today? Where is his friend? If he parades he is ridiculed. If he asks for a pension he is laughed at. If he talks about the war people snicker and sneer. If he wants a place in the government service he is compelled to become a messenger or common laborer, while people who never smelled gunpowder get $1,600
a year and over and strut around as colonels, majors, captains, etc.
Shame on the unpatriotism of our country! We veterans will not live much longer, so why not gladden our last days?"—New York Press.

Making Child Linguists.

A new method of teaching languages by interchanging children between different countries is being popularized by an institution which has its headquarters in Paris.
Sir Oliver Lodge has adopted this method of teaching his children French, by exchanging them for a limited period with members of the family of M. Toni-Mathieu, the director of the society.

In its first year the society has been the means of exchanging no fewer than eighty-eight children and young people between families in England, France, Germany and Austria.—London Mail.

A Tender Hearted Rebel.

Matschenko, the ringleader of the Potemkin mutiny, is thus described in the Neue Freie Presse:
"This 'bloodthirsty' mutineer possesses the naivete and the smile of a little child. In his eyes you may read the melancholy of the steppes and the dreaminess of the woods.
He never speaks of his aged mother,
who lives in a small Russian village, without tears in his eyes. He presented every member of the Potemkin's crew with a souvenir and was heartbroken at the failure of his plans."

St. Helena.

St. Helena is one of England's moribund colonies, according to the report of the governor. It has a capable station and a garrison, but that is all. Only three British warships called in during last year. Considering the proximity of St. Helena to the West African coast and the splendid climate of the island, the governor wonders that it is not used as a sanitarium by the navy.

MISS GILBERT'S MISTAKE

(Original.)

I was awaiting an answer to a card which I had sent up to my friends, the Gilberts, when the waiter who had taken it returned and handed me to follow him. On reaching the suit of apartments to which he led me there stood a young girl, with a card in her hand, whom I had never seen. My first impulse was to withdraw, but when she advanced to greet me there was that in her presence, especially in the smile with which she welcomed me, that bade me pause for developments.

"I expected you," she said. "These wrote me that you would be here today, though I hardly thought you would come so early. Yes, I know what you're going to say—couldn't wait and all that. Such nice things don't count between us, since we've never seen each other. Keep them till our acquaintance is at least a few minutes old."

It was thus that she stopped the only attempt on my part to tell her of the mistake she was making. She led me to a table, where we took seats facing each other; then she said:

"Well, are you disappointed?"

"Disappointed? On the contrary, I'm delighted."

She lowered her eyes. She could not conceal the pleasure my appreciation called forth.

"And you?" I asked. "Are you disappointed in me?"

Her only answer was a smile, but it spoke far plainer than words that she was much pleased with me.

"I have told uncle all along," she said, "that the mere union of two miserable pieces of property would be no inducement to me. There must be something far beyond convenience."

"Certainly," I replied.

"I confess it has bothered me to know that your land is worth more than mine."

"There was evidently a match in progress in which two estates were to be joined. I was rich, but the lady might be richer. I was curious to know how rich she was."

"I have no idea what yours is worth," I remarked carelessly, "not do I care."

"Uncle says it's worth $20,000, while yours is worth $30,000."

I breathed a sigh of relief. If it came to a tussle with the other fellow
I could outbid him—I was heir to $400,000.

"Don't let us talk of such sordid matters. Let us rather speak of that union of hearts which is most important in marriage. Tell me if since seeing me you think you can love me."

"I don't know," she said, looking up at me archly. "It's too soon to tell."

A voluntary confession does not involve necessarily all the mean things a man has been guilty of, especially in an affair of love, so I will only say that I had a delightful visit, but the moment I got out of the hotel I felt like a cur. The thought of her discovery of my villainy horrified me. This came, I confess, not from a tender conscience, but because I had fallen in love with the girl I had deceived.

There was no great mystery about the matter, simply a coincidence, or rather a double coincidence. There was probably more than one Gilbert family in the hotel, and the man who was expected must have been of the same name as I. Nothing remained for me but to leave my rival to his own good time and uncover my villainy.

A year passed. I neither saw nor heard anything of her who must be Miss Gilbert, though I both wanted and dreaded to see her. A meeting came at last, and when it came it was so sudden that it quite took my breath away. At a ball one evening I was dancing a figure in which partners are changed, and suddenly found myself vis-a-vis with the lady whom I had so grossly deceived. I stood as if turned to stone. There was a momentary look on her face as if she might have seen me before. Then she accepted me for a partner as she would any other man who had not been introduced. We finished the figure without a word, and inclining her head slightly, she left me.

I took steps at once to discover who she was and found, as I supposed, that she was Miss Gilbert.

Apparently she had not recognized me as the man she had received by mistake. At any rate I proposed to bribe it out that I was not. I secured an introduction and asked her to dance. What troubled me was that there was none of that delightful interchange of sympathy we had experienced. One thing she said pierced me to the heart. "You have the same name and greatly resemble a man who once treated me very dishonorably."

I thanked heaven that she did not know I was the same person and set out to win her as

SAD TRAGEDY

Mother and Child Meet With Death Beneath Moving Train
Formerly Resided in Wood—Had Relatives in This

Desoto: Mrs. Harley Adams, wife of the farmer at Big Muddy pumping station, half-way between here and Carbondale, and her little four-year-old daughter were run over and instantly killed by an Illinois Central freight train at the pumping station Sunday afternoon as she was on her way to spend the afternoon with her husband.

Mrs. Adams, whose maiden name was Smith, had a mother, Mrs. Mary Smith, residing in Woodson, a sister, Mrs. William Galloway, and other relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. Adams formerly resided in Woodson, and Mr. Adams father, Joel Adams, is a resident of this city. He left for Woodson Monday to attend the funeral, which will be held at Youngblood cemetery. Interment will be in Youngblood cemetery.

HOW THAT HOME RUN WAS MADE.

Edward Livingston won that box of Country Club cigars at the West Side park Sunday afternoon. Ed had not realized before what it meant to win a box of Country Club cigars. Sunday many were smoking them in the grand stand and when the aroma was wafted down on the breeze "Liver" inhaled some of it and his nostrils dilated, and he then and there made up his mind that the box of cigars would be his. He rapped the ball harder than he ever did in his life and perhaps he never ran as fast before. Since smoking some says that people will not be averse to running four blocks to get a box of them after they have once smoked them.

BOARD OF EDUCATION

New Teachers Named—Eight Ballots on Truant Officer—Vertical System of Penmanship Abandoned for Natural Slant Method—Other Business Transacted.

The board of Education held a regular meeting Monday night with all members and officers present. The resignation of Miss Hopper as teacher in the Fourth ward was accepted and Miss Anna Hopper was chosen to fill the vacancy. Miss Jennie King, teacher in the Second ward, was granted a year's leave of absence on account of ill health and Miss Daisy Lucht was appointed in her place. Lulu Woodman was appointed substitute teacher in the First ward.

The board decided to change from Stowell's physiologies to Blaisdell's. The new books are published by Ginn & Co. and the publishers, through Mr. Owen, made a liberal offer of exchange. The Stowell books have been in the schools about thirteen years.

After eight ballots W. H. Jordan was chosen truant officer.

Supt. W. A. Furr was present and talked over various matters with the board. He spoke among other things of commencing domestic science in the eighth grade instead of the seventh grade. This change was made as under the old plan seventh grade pupils from the various wards had to go to the high school building for their work and so lost a good deal of time.

The board also decided to adopt Barnes' natural slant system of penmanship instead of the vertical system. Other school matters were discussed and the board adjourned at 9:30 o'clock.

See "Alvin Joslin" at the Grand to night. Prices: 25, 35 and 50 cents.

LOCALS WIN AGAIN

Pittsfield No Match for Home Players—Livingston's Hit for Four Sacks the Feature of the Game—Hackett and Belt Were in the Points

Pittsfield was again defeated Sunday at West Side park by a score of 15 to 2, this being the fourth time this season that they have been defeated by the home boys—once upon their own grounds, and three times here. The weather was cold, but with "Jim" Hackett in the box and Frank Belt behind the bat seemed to put enthusiasm in the boys and they played as they never did before. There was plenty of excitement despite the one-sided score, especially in the second inning, when Livingston knocked a clean home run, which won for him $5 in cash from Frank Corcoran and a box of Country Club cigars from the Jacksonville Cigar company. The hit put the crowd in a great state of excitement and when they saw Livingston round third base it was time for everybody to cheer, which they did, this being the first home run made by a local player this season. Jacksonville also made three more runs in this inning on the bad fielding of the Pittsfield boys.

The work of Hackett for the home team was something great, as he had the visitors guessing all through the game and only allowed them six hits off his delivery.

Pittsfield made her first run in the second inning, but failed to reach the home plate again until in the eighth inning, when she made one more.
